Heiko Marx - Bass

Biography

Gloomy and full of energy, the melodic death metallers from July15th transport the listener into a negative, empowering atmosphere.

Lively melodies in harmony with technical demands set the mood.

The band's emotional lyrics are underlined by the versatility of their vocals, which range from clear singing to brutal screams.

Fear, stress, sadness, happiness and hope are part of the range of emotions that affect us. A life of social injustice, violence, uncontrolled emotions, euphoria, selfishness and ignorance constantly envelops us. Resulting in violence within relationships, discrimination against others and unscrupulous actions. This richness of facets needs a soundtrack that July15th delivers.

After a re-finding phase in the line-up, the band is ready for new stylistic challenges.

The songwriting process gives July15th a new face, which will be presented at the upcoming gigs.

The musicians are looking forward to cool live shows and all planned projects according to the motto:

"No stage remains intact"

"One purpose to kill them all"
